'BridgeFest' fireworks take a break

From Art Schroeder
City of West Sacramento

Concluding that its annual fireworks show has outgrown the location, the city of West Sacramento will not be presenting "BridgeFest" in 2007. The centerpiece for viewing the event—the Daniel C. Palamidessi Bridge—cannot accommodate the large crowds drawn to the pre-July 4th event. Replacement sites and dates will be considered for a future BridgeFest. This year, however, the city is recognizing its 20th anniversary in a series of events, such as the "15 Days in May" photo contest and "Harmony on the River."

The BridgeFest fire works celebration originated July 2, 1997, as a salute to the completion of an important city project—the construction of the Daniel C. Palamidessi Bridge, which provided a key link between West Sacramento's north and south segments. The subsequent expansion of new homes in the south area helped increase the city's population by more than 40 percent—from approximately 30,000 in 1997 to over 43,000 today.

As more and more resources were required to manage crowds and parking, it was inevitable that BridgeFest would outgrow the location. As one of only two north-south passageways in the city, the bridge site also raised public safety issues by blocking In the beginning, BridgeFest offered a unique experience as the only professional fireworks show in town. Since the 2000 arrival of the River Cats at Raley Field, fireworks are celebrated following each Saturday night ballgame.

CELEBRATION OF WORDS

More than 30 local teens showed up for the sixth annual "Poetry Slam" sponsored by the Yolo County Library and partners and held at the Collings Teen Center on Merkley Avenue on Friday.

The teens, some accompanied by friends and family, shared poetry written by themselves or by other poets. Several were selected for gift certificate prizes and "Ipod" music players.

The event was planned by the West Sacramento Youth Commission's and chaired by Dani Holbein. Residents Pam Carter and Russ Jones joined Nugget, Safeway and Raley's in providing refreshments. Prizes were donated to by Rosemary Maestretti and the West Sacramento Friends of the Library, and teen center Dave Dove helped arrange the event.

City leaders visit D.C. to talk about floods, port issues

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Mayor Christopher Cabaldon

West Sacramento officials are among those who have returned from a regional "Capital to Capital" lobbying trip to Washington, D.C., last week. The annual event is sponsored by the Sacramento Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce, and features representatives from many of the area's local city and county governments.

This city's representatives included Mayor Christopher Cabaldon, Mayor pro tem Oscar Villegas, Councilman Mark Johannessen, Councilman Wes Beers, city flood control engineer Caroline Quinn and Mike Luken, manager of the city-controlled Port of Sacramento.

"Our focus was on flood control including the levees and on the port," reported Mayor Christopher Cabaldon. "We met with our Congressman, Mike Thompson, who has been very supportive and active for us. We talked about strategy. We also met with the Army Corps of Engineers at a high (staff) level, talking about both the channel-deepening project (for the port) and the levees."

The meetings didn't – and weren't expected to – result in any newly-inked deals, said Cabaldon. But they did provide better traction for the city's efforts to get help upgrading its levees and deepening the channel that serves the port, so that facility can handle bigger ships.

This year's "Cap to Cap" lobbying trip also included a delegation-wide focus on several issues, he said. Among the goals chosen this year were promoting the "Capital Valley Intermodal Facility" in Sacramento and a new direct interchange for I-5 and Highway 113 in Woodland, said Cabaldon.

On a separate topic, Cabaldon was asked by the News-Ledger how the city plans to respond to an appeals court decision that nullified West Sacramento's anti-gang injunction, which imposed curfews and other restrictions of those labeled as gang members.

"There were some issues of constitutionality involved, and it was the role of the courts to sort those out, which they did," he answered. "Now it's up to the city and the D.A. to find out what the next steps will be. The chief of police is examining some options and will make a recommendation to the city council and the District Attorney."

Golf course community planned

■ Planners & public get an Informal early look at Southport project asking to build 3,000 homes

The city planning commission will participate in a public workshop tomorrow on the proposed "Yarbrough" project slated for the southwest part of Southport. The project includes plans for 710 acres currently used for farming but envisioned as part of the "southwest village" in the southern part of the city.

Yarbrough is proposed by ASB Properties, familiar to West Sacramentans through the Bridgeway Lakes development and other local construction. It is one of two "active" major projects now proposed in Southport, along with Richland's "River Park" proposal for Southport's southern riverfront.

A third active proposal requests approval of the University Park development which is south and outside of city limits.

Yarbrough's plans include "bells and whistles" such as a planned golf course and lake, along with 3,004 residential units of differing types – about 1,800 more than envisioned for the area by the Southport Framework Plan. The project also asks for redesignation of over 400 acres from agricultural uses to other uses such as residential and parks.

The workshop has been requested by ASB Properties in advance of "formal" review this summer. The planning commission will meet to discuss Yarbrough and other items at 6 p.m. Thursday at 1110 West Capitol Avenue.

Yarbrough is located west of Jefferson Blvd. and south of Bevan Road.

$60,000 for Salud Clinic

Salud Clinic received $60,000 earmarked to help renovate and expand its northern-West Sacramento facility, which serves uninsured and underinsured citizens.

"The gift to our capital campaign for Salud Clinic is particularly meaningful because we will be able to provide enhanced services to an estimated additional 6,000 people in West Sacramento in the expanded facility," said Affrime. "As the safety-net provider for Yolo County, our services are needed now more than ever as the number of uninsured people we serve continues to rise."

Yolo hires ombudsman for staff & supervisors

From the County of Yolo

New ombudsman's background includes West Point & Ph.D. in clinical hypnotherapy

Yolo County Administrator Sharon Jensen recently announced the appointment of Harrison Jack as the county's first ombudsman. The ombudsman position was created by the Board of Supervisors earlier this year to provide employees a neutral party to whom they can talk with regarding issues and concerns they may feel uncomfortable taking directly to their supervisor or other available county staff.

"The appointment of Harrison Jack signals our Board's sincere desire to create a "safe place" for employees who have concerns that they may feel can not be addressed through other channels," said Yolo County Board of Supervisors Chair Mariko Yamada. "We are especially pleased to have Mr. Jack available to our employees with his extensive background in analyzing workplace strengths, weakness and opportunities."

Jack has been an adjunct professor with Golden Gate University for the past 15 years teaching strategic planning, executive and operations management, and critical reasoning. He holds a Bachelors of Science in engineering from the United States Military Academy at West Point, a Masters in public administration, a Masters in personnel management, and a Ph.D. in clinical hypnotherapy.

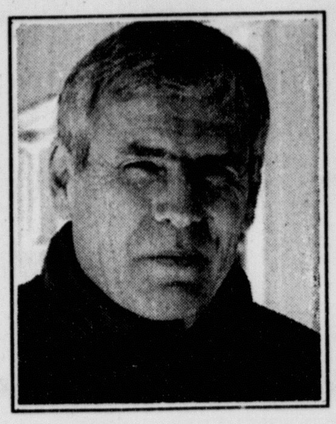
Raised in Woodland, Mr. Jack recently established the Hmong Emergency Relief Organization (HERO), a non-profit organization committed to support of the Hmong community here and abroad, and serves as president of Youth Development Academies of America, a non-profit dedicated to building a one-year residential youth development center for 500 out-of-school youths, ages 16-20, to provide education, leadership, and life skills essential for self-sufficiency.

"I am pleased to be working back home in Woodland again and I embrace this opportunity to facilitate open communication and a healthy work environment throughout the Yolo County organization," said Harrison Jack. "I look forward to helping empower all employees to directly participate in, and support, the strategic vision of the county in a way that supports their individual talents as well as high-performance team efforts."

Yolo County is the first in the state to provide this benefit to its employees. The county will soon begin a promotional campaign with employees so they have an awareness of the role of the ombudsman and how to access his services. Jack is contracted at $90 an hour on an hourly, as-needed basis.

Clotheslines bring back good (& bad) memories

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Knowing that I am interested in learning more about how one goes about lowering their "carbon footprint", a friend recently passed along a newspaper article for me to read entitled "To Fight Global Warming, Some Hang a Clothesline". It was written by a lady named Kathleen Hughes and she has apparently concluded that one really good way to help lower her outrageously high summertime electricity bill ($1,120 a month) is to simply string up a clothesline to dry her laundry, much like her mother had always done when Hughes was growing up in rural Pennsylvania.

"As a child, I happily helped my mother hang laundry in our backyard," nostalgically recalled Hughes. "My job was handing up the wooden clothespins, and when everything was dry, I helped her fold the sheets in a series of moves that resembled ballroom dancing."

Unfortunately, Hughes soon learned that the decision to hang a clothesline on her own property isn't so easy anymore, and that it was frowned upon by her homeowner's association.

"I was told that my laundry had to be completely hidden in an enclosure approved by a board of directors," explained Hughes, "and that before I could start drying my clothes, I had to submit a site plan of our property and a photograph of my laundry enclosure."

Anyway, to make a long story short, Hughes was finally allowed to hang her laundry out to dry and it wasn't long before she was able to see a dramatic reduction in her monthly electricity bill.

When I mentioned all of the above to my wife the other evening, she said, "So, what are you saying? That you want me to start hanging up our laundry on a clothesline?"

"Well," I said, "it does seem like our clothes dryer is always running and I bet it ends up being a big part of our electricity bill every month."

"That's true," my wife confirmed, "but do you know how long it takes to hang up a load of laundry on a clothesline?"

"Well, no."

"I didn't think so. And do you know how long it takes to take down and fold a load of laundry that has been dried on a clothesline?"

"Not really."

"And do you know what your towels and shirts are going to feel like when they have been dried on a clothesline?"

"No."

"A lot like sandpaper," my wife assured me.

"But I bet they will smell really good."

"That's true."

Then, suddenly, out of nowhere, I had one of those childhood flashbacks I have often read about but never really experienced before. You know, one of those unwanted moments when a traumatic memory which has long been buried deep in your subconscious suddenly rises to the surface and smacks you right in the face.

Anyway, there I was, in my mind's eye, on a glorious summer day, six or seven years old, standing next to the elaborate clothesline my father had constructed for my mother in the backyard of our home at 1708 Michigan Boulevard. She had just finished taking down a bunch of dried clothes which I had helped her put in a big laundry basket. And as she picked up the heavy basket and headed back into the house to start her ironing, with nothing better to do, I decided to shimmy up one of the tall, thick, sturdy aluminum clothesline poles which my father had anchored in concrete. The pole was really slick and I had to lock my legs firmly around it to make any progress, but when I finally reached the top, I noticed that the pole was actually hollow, and for whatever reason young boys do such things, I decided to look down inside it. Then, with one of my eyes placed as close to the round opening as I could get it, a huge and very angry lookout from what had to be one of the largest wasp's nests ever constructed in the history of West Sacramento, flew straight into my eye and stung me as many times as he possibly could.

Having never experienced such pain before, straight down to the ground I headed, barely holding onto the pole as I went. Then, once back on the earth and clutching my already swelling eye, off to my house I ran, screaming at the top of my lungs. Fortunately, my eyelid had closed just in time to absorb most of the stings, but for the next week or so, my bloody eye was swollen so badly that I looked like I had just gone 15 rounds with Muhammad Ali in his prime.

"Daryl," called out my wife, "are you listening to me? Did you hear what I just said?"

"You said something?" I asked, suddenly back in the present again.

"I said that if you really want to go to all the trouble of stringing up a clothesline in the backyard, then we can give it a try."

"Oh, that's okay," I quickly said. "On second thought, I think we'll just stick to using the dryer."

"But what about your carbon footprint?"

"My eyesight is more important."

Westmore Oaks wins: students recycle nearly 5,000 telephone books, earn $250

By Denise Kotko
City of West Sacramento

West Sacramento schools accepted the challenge of the City of West Sacramento and AT&T Telephone Book Recycling by collecting over 9000 telephone books for recycling! Westmore Oaks Elementary School was the winner of the challenge, collecting 4872 books and earning a top prize of $250.

Evergreen Elementary School also had a significant presence, collecting over 3000 books. Also participating were Holy Cross School and Our Lady of Grace School. All schools were paid a fee by Green Fiber, an insulation company, for recycling and earned prizes donated by the City of West Sacramento and AT&T, including cases of recycled paper.

Of particular interest was the support of the parents and business community. One family with children at two schools took on this project as a very personal challenge and scoured the local motels, businesses and government offices to collect books.

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa

By Richard Novoa

The 2007 NFL draft has come and gone while setting an NFL record for the longest first round in draft history. The historic event started with the Raiders No. 1 pick and ended 6 hours and 10 minutes later with the defending champion Colts selecting Anthony Gonzales at No. 32.

The first round might have been boring but Raiders owner, Al Davis, and his first year coach, Lane Kiffin, surprised the Raider faithful with an excellent draft selecting LSU quarterback, JaMarcus Russell with No. 1 pick. The real surprise wasn't that they didn't trade the pick but that they pulled off a shocking trade to New England for disgruntled receiver Randy Moss. Overall, the Raiders selected 11 players to fill many weaknesses on both sides of the football.

The 49ers on the other hand also enjoyed a great draft that included selecting a top linebacker in Pat Willis from Mississippi St. and 6-6, 305 pound offensive tackle Joe Staley, who will help protect Alex Smith's blind side. The Niners selected a total of nine players in the draft but it was the trade with Seattle (4th round pick) for veteran wide receiver Darrell Jackson that might put the Niners over the hump and into the playoffs this year.

NBA Playoffs

The playoffs are into the second week of action and the Miami Heat is the first casualty of the first round match-ups. The young Chicago Bulls swept through Shaq and Flash and over the rest of their cocky teammates to move on to face the Detroit Pistons in round two.

Detroit, who swept Orlando, and the Raging Bulls, who swept the Heat, should be the series to watch? The Bulls are on a roll but I think the Pistons bench and experience will be too much for Bulls. Detroit will win the series in seven dramatic games that will include an overtime nail bitter!

In the other Eastern Conference series the Nets have the youngsters from Toronto on the ropes with a 3 games to 1 advantage heading into Tuesday's game in Toronto. The Nets should prevail over the Raptors but they won't be a good match up for the James Gang. King James and the Cavaliers will win in six.

In the West the Golden State Warriors (3-1) and their coach Don Nelson have Mark Cuban and his Dallas Mavericks in a desperate situation. The Warriors, who haven't qualified for the playoffs in 13 years and who hasn't won a playoff series since they beat San Antonio in 1991, are in good shape. If the Warriors can hang on and upset the Mavs they will beat up the winner of the Jazz and Rockets (3-2) series which is still up for grabs with the series moving to Utah for game 6 on Thursday.

The Suns (3-1) will knock off the Lakers and try a rest up the squad while the Spurs and Nuggets wear each other out. The winner of the Suns and Spurs series will be the favorite to win the West especially of the Warriors knock out the Mavs!

Diamond Notes

The Giants (13-11) have cooled off a little bit after winning eight games in row and Barry Bonds is clubbing his way a little closer to Hammering Hanks record. The G-Men will be at home this week entertaining the Rockies and Phillies while the Oakland A's (12-13) travel to Boston on Tuesday and Wednesday and then on to Tampa Bay for a weekend series.

Between the Ropes

The MGM in Las Vegas is the place to be on the Cinco de Mayo as the world prepares for the biggest fight in 10 years to hit the strip. The bout billed "The World Awaits" will feature the six-division world champion Oscar De La Hoya (38-4, 30 KO's) versus unbeaten, four-division world champion Floyd Mayweather (37-0, 24 KO's) for De La Hoya's junior middleweight title.

The HBO Pay-per-View fight will cost $54.95 and should be worth the price considering the tickets for the fight sold out in only three hours establishing a live gate record of $19 million. This broke the previous record of $16,860,300 for the November 13, 1999 Lennox Lewis vs. Evander Holyfield II. Oscar is getting around $25 million and Floyd will receive over $10 million and that's not counting their pay-per-view cuts.

For some strange reason I think Oscar is going to outlast the 2-1 favorite Mayweather and win a split decision to set up another big payday or part two – kind of like the Sugar Ray Leonard vs Marvin Hagler or Tommy Hearn's trilogies of old!

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

RCHS tennis takes the title

From River City High School

With a 9-0 win over West Campus, the River City High School tennis team clinched its 12th consecutive league championship and the 14th in school history. After also downing Center 8-1 late last week, the Raiders are currently 11-0 in the Capital Valley Conference (CVC) and 19-1 overall in 2007.

Senior boys doubles players Kehoua Saechao and Adrian Araza earned the fifth win of the day at West Campus to ensure R.C.'s title. In other doubles matches, Brandon Yip and Doug Tipton, Anna Bouttavong and Yian Saetern, Tamara Lopatin and Julie Saeteurn, and Sandy Phouanglasy and Dipak Patel all came through with victories.

In the singles matches, Chris Salazar cruised 6-1,6-1 at #1 boys and Yelena Ionova triumphed 6-2,6-1 at #1 girls. Josel Tanjutco won 4-6,6-2,6-4 in #2 boys, as did Cindy Yang at #2 girls, 6-4,4-6,6-1.

Over the weekend, the Raiders traveled to the 29th Annual Quincy Invitational Tournament and brought home the first place trophy for the 11th straight time. Bouttavong and Ionova won the girls doubles event, Saechao and Araza came in second place in boys doubles, and Bouttavong did the same in girls singles. In mixed doubles, Saechao and Svetlana Istomin defeated teammates Dipak Patel and Tamara Lopatin in the title match 8-5.

Next up for the Raiders will be the CVC Tournament tomorrow (singles) and Friday (doubles) at the Natomas Racquet Club in Sacramento. On Thursday, May 10th, RC will host a quarterfinal match in the Sac-Joaquin Section Division III team playoffs against the winner of a first round contest between Colfax and Lindhurst.

LETTERS from p. 7

Why doesn't the WSPD try to connect with the community instead of alienating it with questionable surveillance and harassment? One suggestion we had put out from the beginning was for the WSPD to have "neighborhood" officers that could establish a familiarity with residents and promote a sense of trust. If they can do it in the worse neighborhoods in Chicago I think they could give it a chance here.

I care for this community and would love to feel the WSPD, D.A. Reisig and the mayor care about it too. I believe the ball is in their court.

Well done, school board

What a difference a meeting can make. Who would have thought anyone would ever say being at a meeting of the WUSD Board of Education was an enjoyable evening?

Well, last Thursday night's meeting was exactly that. Were mistakes made? Yes, a few were. Was there a violation? Yes there was. Was it done in the usual "in your face" manner? NO it was not.

I truly believe it may have been a lack of knowledge of procedure rather than the usual blatant violations. Not everyone heard the answers they wanted nor did votes go the way some employees and members of the public thought they should. But the most important thing was that we got answers! The board spoke first giving the public the opportunity to be able to question their statements when the public input session came. At the end of the public statement cabinet members were asked if they could clarify something or answer questions and they did attempt to do so. They may not have been the answers we wanted or agreed with, but they were answers. The board actually heard us and acknowledged us. They knew we were there and they included us in the meeting as something more than a three minute speech they could care less about and just wanted to see it over so they could move to the next one and hopefully we would go home and leave them alone. It was a pleasant surprise and I truly hope it continues to go this way. Thanks for the memory.

Calculate your share of proposed new flood taxes

Property homeowners can now find out what they will pay if a new flood control bond measure passes in West Sacramento.

To find out what the annual fee will be for your house, visit the website www.westsacflood-protection.com, and look for the link near the bottom of the page to "preliminary assessment calculator."

You can click on that link, enter your assessor's parcel number, and find out what your share of the annual flood assessment will be. Your assessor's parcel number is available from your property tax bill, or by using a link at the "calculator" website.

The News-Ledger did a very quick and unscientific survey of what the annual fee will be for several homes in the north, south and center of West Sacramento. Projected annual costs for these homes ranged from about $62 to about $122 per year – although some homeowners will pay more and some less than this range.

Officials from the City of West Sacramento and other local flood protection agencies hope voters will approve a $42 million bond in June, financing part of a "local share" of the costs of improvements to the levee system. They expect to levy new impact fees on new development and major remodeling to raise another $42 million. New studies have shown that the levees are not as dependable as previously thought – and the city hopes to use $400 million in new levee work to bring West Sacramento to a "200 year" level of flood protection.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GERALD LEE ROBISON CASE NUMBER PB07-083

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Jerry Robison:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Cindy Katayanagi in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Cindy Katayanagi be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on June 5, 2007, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

POLICE LOG

April 24, 9:39 a.m.

Police officers made a traffic stop on the 1400-block of West Capitol Avenue. They found a driver's license and social security card in the vehicle that did not belong to the male driver. Investigation led to the documents' owner in Citrus Heights – a woman who said that the license and card had been in her purse in her vehicle when the vehicle was stolen. She said she did not know the suspect and he did not have permission to have her belongings. The man was arrested.

April 24, 6:45 p.m.

A man was arrested for DUI after being stopped on Partridge.

April 25, night watch

Officers located a man wanted by the U.S. Secret Service for passing counterfeit bills. At the time of his arrest, he had $2,500 in counterfeit $100 bills in his possession. Secret Service agents took custody of the suspect.

April 26

A man who had lived in West Sacramento for five months was arrested for filing as a sex registrant under a false name. He had also married in Sacramento under the false name before using that name to register as an offender while living in West Sacramento. Using the false name allowed him to appear to have no sex offense record when applying for a job, and no "out of state FBI number" to link him to charges in Colorado where he served 15 years for kidnapping, sexual assault and felony assault.

April 26, 10:39 p.m.

Near Kegle and Lighthouse Drive, three juveniles were reported spraying gang graffiti on a cinderblock wall. One was located and then identified by a witness, after which he was booked into juvenile hall for felony vandalism and conspiracy to commit a felony.

April 26, night watch

Police assisted Sacramento sheriff's deputies with a "buy/bust" operation in West Sacramento. The arranged deal did not go through, but officers stopped the suspect's vehicle. The woman was on searchable probation and in possession of methamphetamine. A search of her residence turned up two ounces of the drug plus $600 in cash, a scale and packaging materials. She was jailed.

April 27, day shift

Officers responded to the report of subjects burning a fire near the deep water channel. Two people were found burning copper wire which was determined to be stolen from several places in Elk Grove, as well as a stolen toolbox. The subjects, at least one of whom was female, were arrested.

April 27, 6:30 p.m.

Officers arrested a parolee for felony driving under the influence (a third offense within 10 years) and a parole hold, near Jefferson Blvd. and Michigan.

April 27, 9:24 p.m.

Officers saw a subject repeatedly jumping the center median of West Capitol Avenue near 5th street and nearly rolling his vehicle. The "extremely intoxicated" man was arrested.

April 28, 1:36 a.m.

Officers were called to the scene of a fight behind an apartment complex. Two female victims reported being assaulted. Two male and two female subjects had attacked them as they tried to leave their vehicle, beating them, and grabbing the steering wheel while they were driving, causing them to hit five parked cars in the parking lot, damaging some seriously. The victims were then pulled from the vehicle and hit and kicked some more, and their purses and a necklace was stolen. Their car was badly damaged from the collisions and by suspects jumping on the hood. The car stereo was stolen. One apartment resident, a female, was identified as a suspect and arrested.

April 28, early morning

Police contacted a man on the 800-block of Hardy Drive for drinking in public. He also had a concealed knife in his pants pocket, and was on probation with a "no weapons" clause. Believed to be a gang member, the suspect was booked.

April 28, 8:15 a.m.

Police responded to a West Capitol/Jefferson Blvd. parking lot for the report of a man exposing himself there. They contacted a parolee and found in possession of cocaine and a syringe. He was arrested.

April 28, 12:30 p.m.

Police assisted a parole officer taking into custody a subject at a mobilehome park on the 2200-block of West Capitol.

April 28, 12:30 p.m.

At a Southport supermarket, a male subject was caught by store personnel trying to steal several cases of beer. He also had an outstanding arrest warrant. Determining that he had entered the store with the intent to steal, he was arrested for burglary.

Officers arrested a male suspect after the suspect fought with someone, stole the victim's hat and fled. The incident occurred at the 2200-block of West Capitol.

April 28, 11:10 p.m.

A victim reported being assaulted by a male suspect under a bridge. The suspect asked the victim, "Are you an Indian?" several times, then hit him on the head and body at least five times with a large crowbar and robbed him of $15.

April 29, 4:33 a.m.

Police were dispatched to the report of a domestic violence suspect who was possibly barricaded with a gun on Snowberry. A roommate said that a shot was heard fired as the roommate fled the residence. Police established a perimeter and negotiated, but the subject refused to come out. Later they saw him passed out on a couch and entered and arrested him without incident. A .40 caliber handgun was found. Bond was set for $50,000, and he was served with an emergency protective order and an order to move out of the residence.

April 29, early morning

Police pulled over a vehicle at Kegle and Cummins. The 16-year old male driver fled on foot, but was found hiding in a pool on Julian Street and arrested. He had an outstanding warrant from Sacramento, and the vehicle turned out to be stolen (but not yet reported) from Sacramento. He went to juvenile hall.

April 29, early morning.

Police were investigating a possible stolen vehicle on Pine Street. A gang member from Los Angeles returned to the vehicle. He dumped a bag of methamphetamine on the ground and was arrested. The Sacramntoe River registered 21 feet 11 inches U. S. guage at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. This shows a raise of more than 2 feet since the guage was taken a week ago, and indicates that some snow in the foothills is already melting.

The children of Washington make special request that the Independent again draw attention to the dance given by them at the Town Hall Saturday evening for the purpose of risaing funds to place a new floor on the dancing hall. They promise a really enjoyable time to every one who attends and have hired the best talent possible to furnish music. They promise that the hall will be made comfortable and that no rough dancing will be permitted, but that all legitimate dances will be on the card. From indications now prevailing it appears that a large crowd will be present to help the children in their efforts.

The firm of Guastalli & Bonomi, operating the soft drink place formerly known as the Hoffman saloon, was dissolved last Saturday when Guastalli sold out to his partner. In future Mr. Bonomi will conduct the place with the assitance of his wife.

Mrs. Pauline Braun is again confined to her bed with a very serious spell. She is under the care of physicians.

Yesterday morning the "Picket" went up stream towing a barge load of oil destined for a point about three miles up the Bear River. The crew were dubious about reaching the desired destination because of the shallowness of the Bear River, but tried anyway.

George Sousa and family have moved to Folsom where he has taken a job of clearing a hundred acres of land. He expects to work a large gang of men during the spring and summer.

Hayward Reed is having the sidewalk fronting his property on Second street, between Ann and Harriett streets, filled. This was a very low sidewalk and during the rainy weather was a bad mudhole that caused great inconvenience to all pedestrians passing that way. Many residents will thank Mr. Reed for this improvement.

Although the fishing season is wide open no salmon has been caught in the river for several months past with the exception of one landed by Charlie and George Newton. At great expense they invested in a net in the amount of about $250 and their first haul netted one salmon and two bass. Later they expect to do better when they become accustomed to the ways of the finny tribe, and when they learn to know the particular haunts of fish. Their first haul lent them considerable encourageemnt with the hope that in time they may be able to establish a fish market of their own.

A good deal of publicity has been given to an immense beet grown by W. F. Smith on his lot on Elizabeth street, between Fourth and Fifth. The beet measured 3½ feet in length and had a circumference of 22 inches and weighed 22½ pounds. The dimensions are not unusual and the weight is not extraordinary for beets grown around Washington.

CLARKSBURG WILL HAVE NURSERY COSTING $100,000

Woodland, Feb. 21.—Gus Olson, president of the Clarksburg Unit of the Yolo County Farm Bureau, brings word here today that M. McDonald, president of the Orenco Nursery Company of Portland, Oregon, had purchased sixty acres of land outside of Clarksburg, and plans thereon to erect a nursery to cost $100,000 and to be known as the Clarksburg Nursery Company.

The land purchased is to be used in the propagation of young vines and trees for general distribution. McDonald makes the claim that the nursery company is to be one of the largest concerns of the kind in the Sacramento Valley and is a certainty because all matters in connection with the deal were settled before any announcement was made.

Two years ago the Morse Seed Company had 10,000 acres in seeds for international distribution. Most of them were grown in Holland Land tracts.

VIRDEN PACKING COMPANY MEETING HEARD RECORD OF SUCCESSFUL YEAR

EARLY BUILDING OF PLANT IN WEST SACRAMENTO EXPECTED WHEN MATERIAL PRICES REACH SOMETHING LIKE NORMAL

The annual stockholders meeting of the Virden Packing Company, which was held last Monday in Sacramento, heard the report from President Virden that secured the unanimous approbation of every contributor and stockholder in the concern.

Not one word of discord or disagreement followed the reading of the report of the president, but on the contrary that report evidently received the absolute approval of every person present.

In that report Virden explained that the delay in building the West Sacramento plant was caused entirely by the unusual prices asked for material during the past year, but anticipated that since the price for material is daily dropping with the expectation of normality soon he expected the plant to be started soon.

Attending the meeting three hundred and fifty stockholders signified their approval of this program with the result that the Board of Directors were elected as follows:

C. E. Virden, J. H. Glide, Chas. Silva, J. M. Henderson, Jr., F. F. Atkinson, J. T. Doyle, H. G. Brown, H. F. Lewis and J. C. Good.

The officers elected were: President, C. E Virden; First Vice-President, H F. Lewis; Second Vice-President, J. C. Good; Third Vice-President, J. H. Glide; Treasurer, J. M. Henderson, Jr.; Secretary, F. F. Atkinson; Assistant Secretary, G. A. Ticoulet.

Following the stockholders meeting and the election of officers a lunch was provided in Elks' Hall at which there was served all the products of the Moran Packing Plant in South San Francisco and in addition a one-half pound carton of sliced bacon of the Campfire Brand was handed to each person present.

The financial report of the concern as read to the stockholders showed a splendid healthy condition which augurs an early building activity on the part of the corporation.

Indeed the financial report made to the stockholders was of the most gratifying character because it showed an economy in management seldom equaled in so large an organization.

A report was turned in also showing that the sales of products of the South San Francisco plant exceeded five million dollars during the past year and that not less than sixty-five thousand head of stock had been slaughtered there since the last report.

The building site in West Sacramento is being prepared by the removal of the circus from the grounds to be occupied by the Virden Packing Company.

CHILD'S DEATH CAUSED BY DIPHTHERIA; DANGER OF SPREAD

Last Wednesday morning Lena Bunelli, infant daughter of L. Bunelli, whose home is at Third and Harriett street, died of diphtheria. The child had been sick only a few days and was under the care of a Sacramento physician. She was only one year and nine months old at the time of her death.

There are two other children, a boy and a girl, in the family, but neither one of them is old enough to attend school.

Immediately following the death of the child the funeral took place, interment being in the City Cemetery in Sacramento.

Since the death of the child the two other children have been treated with serum to prevent contagion.

MESSING UP HIGHWAYS SHOULD BE STRICTLY PROHIBITED

Supervisor Shadrock Gladney of the Western Yolo district has posted notices on the roads throughout his district threatening the arrest of persons who mess up the highway by dumping rubbish and other detrimental material.

Gladney threatens to enforce the order with vigor because the dumping of old cans and old papers makes it bad for picnickers who resort to western Yolo on Sundays for picnics.

With equal force might Supervisor Leinberger take similar action in this district because some people seem to take particular pains to dump their rubbish on the roadside of this district.

At the present writing there is a dump of old tin cans and old wall paper on the roadside about a mile south of West Sacramento headquarters.

Evidently a wagonload of the material was dumped at one place and another wagonload a little farther south. The old wallpaper has been scattered in all directions by the wind, making an eyesore along the road for more than half a mile. This is particularly objectionable now that many visitors from Sacramento are looking around West Sacramento especially on Sundays.

A little civic pride should deter people from practices of this kind.

What is a hypocrite?
God knows. Ask a preacher.

Calling all seniors!

You see them in the grocery store shopping for themselves or with family members, but where you don't see a lot of them is at the one place that is made just for them, the West Sacramento Senior Center.

The West Sacramento Senior Center is located at 664 Cummins Way. And it needs your help! The Senior Center has been providing services, activities and meals for many years but the attendance has dropped dramatically in the last few years. At one time attendance was around 50-60 people coming ever weekday for lunch and to socialize and participate in the activities. Now they have around 25 or fewer each day. The Center has transportation, several activities, and great people to talk to, yet you still aren't there. The seniors that attend the Center want to see more people there and that means you.

The Senior Center has wonderful activities for you to participate in. It has exercise classes, ceramics, dancing, Bingo, and lots more to keep any senior busy. The Center also has a luncheon once a month on the last Saturday at 11 a.m. sponsored by a local church which provides a home-cooked meal, and they have a veteran's representative that comes each Wednesday between 8-11 a.m. who can help with veteran's services like navigating the Mather Veterans Center, medication and transportation.

Some people don't like the title of senior, but why deprive yourself of a good time. A name is just a name but think about all the fun you could have associating yourself with the wonderful people at the Center, like my grandfather, who is 91 years old. He would really enjoy meeting more of you so come and check things out.

The staff and the senior attendees want to see you there. The Senior Center is there for you so take advantage of it. For more information call 373-5819. See you there!

No gang injunction

Did our district attorney really say that? He claimed that the incident with the Amtrak engineer was proof that the injunction against the "Broderick Boys" was necessary. The fact the injunction was in place at the time of the incident apparently didn't occur to him. This whole idea was a bad one from the beginning. Trying to take away people's civil rights and trying to force them to stay in their homes, to perhaps appease developers who are worried about their $1 million homes selling, was against the law, as decided by the 3rd District Court of Appeals. I wonder what other reason there could have been for the hatching of this whole injunction idea. It is a very hard sell to say that the reason was because of the crime rate or the violence rate. Where are the facts? I have lived in West Sacramento all my life and have never been aware of some huge crime wave over in Broderick. Let's see it proved in court before the injunction is granted, like you are supposed to do, giving the other side a chance to fight for their side first. By the way, where were our judges when this happened? They let us down also. I guess if your case is weak you do what they tried to do, sneak it in, don't tell the other side what you are doing. That's exactly why they lost in court, no notification. Of course if he repeated the statement about the Amtrack incident to the judges, how that incident occurring prove the need for an injunction? It couldn't have helped his case.

Mr. Reisig also says that these people despise the police. Well, duh, if you are being harassed by the police for the past couple of years, wouldn't you be angry, too? And to make matters worse, after losing his case in court he starts describing young people, who used to be called juvenile delinquents or criminals, "domestic terrorists." Sounds like the same tactics Bush used to sell us on his idea for going to war in Iraq. This incorrect usage of words to purposely scare us into believing something we wouldn't ordinarily believe is wrong. We need our politicians and bureaucrats to give us straight talk. Do not try and play us. Now more than ever we need you to do what is best for the people. If money had some influence in determining whether this illegal injunction was sought and granted, then it should be investigated. Maybe the DA should write a letter to the editor explaining the genesis of this injunction idea. I for one would love to hear how this whole thing got hatched. I wonder how many developers were at the hearing? One local developer, Mr. Turner, points out that graffiti had dropped since the injunction was put in place. Wow, that is huge. Yeah, let's step on the rights of the whole neighborhood so we can slow down the spread of graffiti. If you think this is all no big deal, maybe you should talk to some of the people affected by this and see what it really did to their lives. From what I have heard, and nothing has ever been proven to my satisfaction, this gang thing was way overblown. Whites and Hispanics in the same gang? I don't think I have ever heard of that before. Sounds a little fishy. The real gangs, say prison gangs, you never see whites and Latinos together. I am not sure, but the people whose rights were stepped on may now have a possible action against the county to seek compensation for their grievances. They may have a right to ask some court to give them money and to punish the county for doing this to them. How much more of our money is going to be wasted on this maneuver by the DA in seeking another injunction or defending himself in a lawsuit brought by the so-called Broderick Boys?

Mr. Reisig and those of you still pushing this idea of an injunction, please keep the rhetoric to a minimum. Don't try and scare us by using terms like "domestic terrorist." It only makes you look deceitful.

It seemed to me that the gang injunction didn't help protect an Amtrak engineer after 10 p.m., a curfew that was to keep the public safe in West Sacramento. There was no police in sight to deter the crime.

The biggest problem in California is handguns and drugs on the streets of our cities. This should be our top priority to keep our streets safe for children and families in West Sacramento. There is also a need for better communication between the police department and our longtime residents. Remember, not everyone in the 3-square miles covered by the injunction is a gang member. I have friends who are longtime homeowners living is that area who are upstanding citizens who feel very uncomfortable having the police patrolling for no apparent reason. This type of surveillance shows no respect for the homeowners and families of this town.

CHARLES SANO
West Sacramento

Unjust injunction

Well, it only took 2+ years for the courts to see the injustice of the West Sacramento Gang Injunction. Finally it was seen clearly for what it was — a violation of civil rights and a self-promoting antic by the WSPD, DA Reisig and Mayor Cabaldon. My goodness, give someone a chance to defend themselves against charges that will result in life-long restrictions on their everyday life? What a novel idea! No one should be sentenced "to life" without their day in court.

The backlash from the decision seems to follow the theme that the "Gang" and ACLU have prevailed over the "law-biding" community. What people do not understand is that most of the individuals served with a gang injunction were NEVER affiliated with a gang.

They are fathers,mothers,sons & daughters that were deemed by the authorities to be gang members — again, just because you say it doesn't mean its true. Mayor Cabaldon has ignored any effort to meet with him concerning the gang injunction for the last 2 years. Now that he has his sights set on the District 8 Assembly I would not think he wants this ill conceived injunction on his coat tails.

From the SF Chronicle a quote from Police Lt. David Farmer: "It's like throwing a net out in the ocean, and you're trying to catch salmon. You're going to catch other fish."

These "other fish" were given no recourse to clear themselves from their injunction other than to sign an "opt-out" form provided by the WSPD that read in all aspects as a confession — the same form that Police Chief Drummond admitted at a Town Hall meeting in 2005 was drafted in haste, was not perfect and he was willing to meet with concerned residents to re-word. The next week when contacted Drumming denied making that statement and refused to alter the existing "opt-out" form.

Another restriction (among the many) that the media has failed to mention was that other than the 10pm curfew there was also a restriction that stated those served with an injunction could not leave their home "before sunrise" which changes as all know with the seasons.

What is one that has to be at work @ 6am supposed to do — call their employer and say "Oh by the way I have been served with a gang injunction even though I have never been a gang member and cannot leave for work until the sun comes up"?

I live in Bryte (I refuse to call it the "North Area" as it again creates a division of communities that has existed for years) and have been very aware of the beefed up police patrols with helicopter assistance in the area since the injunction was reversed. Last Friday I heard of an undercover vehicle video taping a local BBQ and when confronted stated they were making a "documentary".

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

CRITIC'S CORNER
By D.N.A Smith

"Hot Fuzz"

Running time: 120 minutes
MPAA rating: R

Here's the short version: If you liked "Shaun of the Dead," you'll like "Hot Fuzz."

Long version: The same guys, Edgar Wright (writer/director) and Simon Pegg (writer/star), who gave us the best zombie movie spoof ever, have turned their sights onto the Michael Bay/Jerry Bruckheimer "supercop" genre — with equally hilarious results.

Unlike American-style spoofs like "Scary Movie" that try to re-create specific scenes and shots from popular films, "Hot Fuzz" takes a different approach by using black humor and wit while capturing the look and feel of the genre. This doesn't mean that Pegg & Co. are above a cheap laugh (they aren't), but they don't rely on it.

The film stars Pegg as Nick Angel, a London supercop whose arrest rate is 400 percent higher than any other cop on the force. Because he's making the rest of the department look incompetent, he's transferred to a sleepy, picturesque country hamlet called Sandford, which hasn't had a suspicious death in 20 years, a crime rate that's virtually nil, but an accident rate that is disturbingly high — a fact that leads Angel into a web of conspiracy and intrigue ... and murders most foul.

His partner, Danny Butterman (Nick Frost) dreams of being a supercop like the ones in his massive DVD collection, which is packed with titles like "Bad Boys II" and "Point Break." Together, the pair investigate a series of "accidental" deaths preceding the annual Best Village Award judging.

Fans of British TV and films will also get a treat by the number of stellar cameos in the film. Steve Coogan, Bill Nighy, Martin Freeman and others make appearances and thoroughly chew up the scenery.

"Hot Fuzz" is definitely worth a look.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF DANIEL STEPHEN HAWKINS
CASE NUMBER PB07-082

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Daniel Stephen Hawkins:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Linda Lee Schrimsher in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Linda Lee Schrimsher be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on May 24, 2007, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. ### PELUSO'S TELEME
